

PAGE TURNERS

a selection of new and upcoming releases

August 2021

H= available on Hoopla

L = available on Libby

Fiction:

We Are the Brennans* by Tracey Lange (8/3)

Ashamed of causing a drunk driving accident, a young woman returns home to the Irish Catholic family she abandoned five years prior

Billy Summers* by Stephen King (8/3)

A hitman with a conscience looks for a way out of his last job in this compelling noir

All's Well* by Mona Awad (8/3)

A college theater professor's chronic pain begins to disappear when she stages a Shakespeare play

She Wouldn't Change a Thing* by Sarah Adlakha (8/10)

A woman wakes up in her teenage body and is given a chance to start over in this thought-provoking time travel drama

The Reading List* by Sara Nisha Adams (8/3)

An elderly widower and a teen librarian forge a bond over a book list in this heartwarming debut

The King of Infinite Space* by Lyndsay Faye (8/10)

In this modern retelling of Shakespeare's Hamlet, Ben questions the circumstances surrounding his father's death

Nonfiction:

The Case of the Murderous Dr. Cream: The Hunt for a Victorian Era Serial Killer* by Dean Jobb (H, 7/13)

A Victorian true crime about a physician convicted of murders in three countries—for fans of Devil in the White City

Maiden Voyages: Magnificent Ocean Liners and the Women Who Traveled and Worked Aboard Them* by Sian Evans (8/10)

In the early 20th century, transatlantic travel afforded women new opportunities. Some of these stories are told in this engaging collective biography.

The Prisoner: A Memoir* by Hwang Sok-Yong (8/3)

A novelist returns from a trip to North Korea and spends five years in a South Korean prison

The Icpick Surgeon: Murder, Fraud, Sabotage, Piracy, and Other Dastardly Deeds Perpetrated in the Name of Science* by Sam Kean (7/13)

The podcast host explores several stories of unethical science and what we have—or haven't—learned from them

Sleeper Agent: the Atomic Spy in America Who Got Away* by Ann Hagedorn (7/20)

The untold story of an American-born Soviet spy involved in the atomic bomb project—a real life “The Americans”

Tall Men, Short Shorts: the 1969 NBA Finals* by Leigh Montville (7/)

Noted sports reporter reminisces on the Celtics vs. Lakers NBA final in this richly-detailed memoir/sports history