

PAGE
TURNERS

July 2020

H = available on Hoopla

L = available on Libby

Fiction:

Mexican Gothic* by Silvia Moreno-Garcia (L)

A modern take on Gothic horror, set in 1950s Mexico – from the author of Gods of Jade and Shadow

The Shadows* by Alex North

A chilling and creepy thriller, for fans of Stephen King

All Adults Here* by Emma Straub (L)

A charming multigenerational novel set in a small-town – a heartwarming summer read

Friends and Strangers* by J. Courtney Sullivan (L)

An emotionally affecting novel that explores the friendship between a new mother and her nanny

Survivor Song* by Paul Tremblay (L)

A rabies-like virus strikes in Massachusetts, an outbreak the government is not prepared for – from the acclaimed horror novelist

Her Last Flight* by Beatriz Williams (L)

For fans of historical fiction and romance, inspired by Amelia Earhart and set amidst the golden era of aviation

Non-fiction:

The Hardest Job in the World: The American Presidency* by John Dickerson

The 60 Minutes correspondent and journalist on the role of the President in the past and today

Fire in Paradise* by Alastair Gee and Dani Anguiano (L)

A gripping journalistic account of the 2018 wildfires in Paradise, California

The Vapors* by David Hill

1930s-1960s historical true crime set in Hot Springs, AR: a “forgotten capital of vice”

The Sirens of Mars: Searching for Life on Another World*
by Sarah Stewart Johnson

A lyrical history of Mars exploration and a memoir from a planetary scientist

When Truth is All You Have* by Jim McCloskey, with Philip Lerman

A hopeful memoir from a minister who established a prison inmate advocacy organization to free wrongly convicted prisoners

The Book of Eels: Our Enduring Fascination with the Most Mysterious Creature in the Natural World* by Patrik Svensson (L)

A stirring blend of memoir and nature writing about eels, for those who enjoyed H is for Hawk and The Soul of an Octopus